LOCALITY

Osuského Street is located in the Bratislava district of Petržalka, which is known for its dense residential development and complete civic amenities. It is a location with good accessibility to the city center and the highway bypass, which makes it attractive for both living and renting. There are several schools, kindergartens, shops, health centers and sports facilities in the vicinity - for example, the Draždiak area with swimming and relaxation is nearby. The street is quiet and predominantly residential, consisting mainly of panel apartment buildings, and several modernizations and insulation have been carried out in recent years. The location offers excellent public transport connections, especially buses, which provide fast transport to the center and other parts of the city. Overall, it is a stable and sought-after part of Petržalka, suitable especially for families with children, seniors or young couples looking for housing in a more affordable price category.
